

MAN WANTED FOR OLD MURDER HELD

George Killinger, Wanted in Tulsa, Will Be Returned.

ALREADY CONVICT ONE

One of Alleged Murderers Is Finishing Three-Year Term in Canada.

George Killinger, wanted in Tulsa counts for trial on the charge of murder in connection with the killing of W. S. Ward in Dawson October 13, 1915, probably will be returned from Canada in February to trial, local county authorities having been notified by authorities in Montreal that Killinger will within three months finish a term of three years in a Canadian prison and be discharged.

Ward, a storekeeper, was shot to death and a gravely injured at the hands of George Killinger and Bill Crawford. In November of 1914 Crawford was arrested and on September 22, 1916, was convicted in district court and sentenced to life imprisonment. He was later paroled on account of his health.

Killinger escaped and three years ago was captured in Canada and sentenced to three years in prison there on conviction of a crime. Justice S. C. Maxey yesterday issued an alias warrant upon which Killinger will be returned to Tulsa county for trial on the murder charge.

Good Luck Number Monday.
A bunch of genuine American girls and Gipsy Reed, a genuine American aquarist-lecturer, furnish the next two attractions for the community Jinglebeam course. The Overseas orchestra named because of services rendered to the country in entertaining Yank soldiers in foreign lands, will be here Thursday night appearing at the high school auditorium. Reed is to appear at Convention hall Monday night, December 8. Gipsy Reed, author of "The Jacklin," "Tennessee Judge," "Arkansas Painter," and many other popular books and of late years paying particular attention to the lecture platform, is one of the nation's best beloved writers and speakers. Her humor has made the world grin, and her books have been in almost every American home. The girl orchestra in addition to being a novelty, has a creditable musical record.

Pettrey Didn't Steal Wagon.
A. L. Pettrey of Red Fork, charged with stealing a wagon valued at $100, was discharged at his preliminary hearing before Justice H. J. Gray yesterday, testimony showing that the defendant came legally into possession of the vehicle. At the close of the hearing, the court ordered that C. M. Choate be arrested on hisanity and sent into custody, testimony showing that the latter had stolen the wagon. Choate's relatives told the court that the man was old and had shown signs of an unsound mind.

With the Gas Pressure Low Mayor Thinks of City's Poor

AD CLUB HERE TO ASSIST OKMULGEE

Even Dozen Members of Local Organization to Aid City.

Raised by the clubs of the city and private donations that are expected to be sent into the office of the mayor from day to day, is expected to create a large fund before Christmas.

"At this time the office of the humane society is over crowded. It is my purpose to assist them in the fund and also to reach needy people that the humane officer and other charitable organizations would be unable to reach.

"Distribution of the fund will be taken care of entirely by our organization here at the city hall. We will thoroughly investigate the circumstances of those helped and will take the responsibility of seeing that the money is spent for worthy families."

"It is my purpose to raise the money in other ways. First, we want every woman's organization to give us their assistance, by putting on benefit entertainments, bazaars, dances, picnics and by a number of other means through which they can raise money. Similar efforts can be made by the various civic organizations," Mayor Hubbard said.

"Rubber tires and casings will be collected and sold to junk dealers and the money donated to the mayor's Christmas fund. It was announced the intersections of Boston and Fifth streets, and of Lincoln and Second streets, were designated by the mayor at which the old rubber may be left by any one interested in helping the fund.
